Hyrum Belnap

Dear Husband.

Your favor of the 22nd inst is at hand and it pleased me to learn that you are getting along so well with your land and cattle.

We are all well. Flora runs out soon and plays now as usual. Your mother slept here last night, but went home this morning and took Mary with her. They will return again tomorrow. Addie has gone to the evening meeting, and it is expected that the presidency of the stake and Apostle Richards will meet with the Fourth Ward and perhaps appoint a

bishop over the south part of the road. F. S. Richards spoke in the Tabernacle to day and highly edified the audience.
Peter Olson stopped here last Thursday night and said his folks were all well.

The marshals brought Louretia Souls up as a witness in the Kidout case last Tuesday and after being examined, she came up to see the girls and stopped here until yesterday when she returned home.

Vinson was here last Thursday and I got him and Mr Woodward to move out our stove, and so yesterday we had the kitchen white-washed and cleaned. I believe to day is the warmest day we have had this summer, and it seems almost warm enough to melt such fleshy people as myself.

I purchased Laura & Flora each a hat the other day and they feel as proud over them as a young master does over his first spurs. I sat Marian on the carpet when I commenced writing but she has hitched along until she has got out on the porch to the girls.

The calf which you left here has become so strong that we can scarcely manage her. We keep her tied in the lot and when we take her to and from the barn she yanks us around like a cat would a mouse.

When she takes a notion, she takes a big run, breaks her rope, galloped around the house and makes sport for herself and us too.

Well Hyrum, I dont know of anything more to write about but trust that this will find you well and that you will soon start for home. Please answer this as soon as you can. As ever your affectionate Annie Belnap.

P. S. Bishop Shattford chose H. Gwilliams & F.
Ballantyne as counselors and T. J. Stephens is
and I believe that George Markin & C. C. Brown are his counselors.
