Messrs. Jas. Taylor, Moroni Brown and F. A. Brown are Indicted

on the Charge of Unlawful Cohabitation.

Some Law and Motion Cases Ably Argued.

The First District Court opened at ten o'clock this morning, and after the reading of the journal. Hans Peter Hansen a native of Denmark was admitted to citizenship.

A short time after the Grand Jury filed into the Court room and through their foreman Mr. Nathan Kimball reported that the bills against E Kelly and Frank Taw.

against E. Kelly and Frank Lawrence had been ignored. True bills had been ignored against James Taylor, Moroni Brown, and F. A.
Brown for unlawful cohabitation.
Case No. 5 on the Law and Motion calendar, John and A. K.

Stoddard, vs. H. H. Campbell et al. was taken up. R. K. Williams appeared for complainant, Kimball and Heywood demurrer to complaint. In this suit the plaintiffs prayed for an injunction against Jas. B. Stoddard, H. H. Campbell and G. R. Belnap to prevent desfendants selling a certain quantity, of lumber, which had been taken an independent rendered in the

Jas. B. Stoddard, H. H. Campbell and G. R. Belnap to prevent desfendants selling a certain quantity of lumber, which had been taken on a judgement rendered in the Justice's Court, against Jas. B. Stoddard who is a partner in the firm of Stoddard and Sons; Jno. Stoddard and A. K. Stoddard being the other partners. H. H. Campbell sued Jas. B. Stoddard in the Justice's Court and as stated obtained judgement, and Sheriff G. R. Belnap was instructed to levy on Jas. B. Stoddard's interest in the firm of Stoddard & Sons, The complaint sets forth that said Jas. B. Stoddard has no capital in the firm, but was to share in the profits of the business in return for his services. The complaint also states that in consequence of the depression of business there have been no profits, hence there is no part of the stock of said firm belonging to defendant, and therefore no lovy can be made. And the injunction is asked for because if a forced sale was carried out it would interfere with the equity of the other partners. The various phases of this case were ably presented by Judge R. K. Williams and J. N. Kimball. Esq., after which the case was submitted. The Court stated he would examine the authorities, although at present he is strongly of opinion that the demurrer should be overruled.

~ 🦾 2 р.m. Messrs. James Taylor, Moroni Brown and F. A. Brown having been notified by Deputy Marshal Vandercook appeared for arraignment. F. S. Richards, Esq, and Judge R. K. Williams represented these gentlemen. They were each arraigned and pleading was deferred till Monday, advantage being taken of the two days in which to plead as allowed by the statute. The Court then announced the defendants were excused till Monday at 10 a.m., at which time it is expected they will be on hand promptly. The Court announced that Mr. Isadore Marks one of the trial Jurors, had presented the certificate of a physician setting forth that he (blarks) was unfit to act as a juror in consequence of his ill health; and Williams represented plaintiffs, Kimball & Heywood demurrer to complaint. The suit arises from the same causes as those of the case which was argued this morning. The arguments were long and exhaustive and the case was ably handled on both sides, and was submitted.

Mr. James Weaver was made a citizen of the United States.

The Grand Jury then came in and announced that they had found
