

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY.

At the conclusion of the ball at Glenwood the Beautiful tonight, that popular resort will close its doors for the remainder of this season. With this pleasure place closed, social devotees will have to turn their attention to home gatherings, for outside of the few dances in the canyon, this resort has furnished amusement for all, almost to the exclusion of other functions.

Miss Edna King of Terrace is visiting friends in Ogden.

Miss Edith Gourlay has returned from a three months' visit in Nebraska.

Mrs. B. M. Short, who has been ill for some time, is now convalescing.

Mrs. W. J. Dallimore and daughter have gone to St. Louis on a pleasure trip.

Couch, whom he had not seen for a number of years.

After an extended visit in California and Nevada, Miss Mary Olson is at home again. Miss Mary's report of a delightful time spent finds verification in her healthful and happy appearance.

The Rathbone Sisters were delightfully entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hill, with that lady as their hostess. A charmingly informal afternoon was spent, interspersed with tempting viands, and the Sisters were profuse in their appreciation, to their hostess, for so enjoyable an afternoon.

Miss Jeanette Pulver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Pulver, and Miss Gertrude Weatherby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Weatherby, were born within an hour of each other on Sept. 7, 1895, and yesterday they entertained a number of their young friends at Glenwood Park. They thoroughly enjoyed the trolley ride, and when they reached the park, put in the afternoon and evening in a general picnic.

The book-keepers of a couple of our wholesale establishments, seem to have won the favor of cupid, the piercing darts of whom have taken the desired effect. One of these victims has already become a benedict; now cannot you surmise whom the other young man is who contemplates forsaking single blessedness? The young lady in the case is from St. Louis, Mo.—Who are they?

Yesterday the Salt Lake Tabernacle choir spent the day in this city. The visit was for the purpose of enjoying the beauties of Ogden canyon which intention was admirably successful, for each and every member of the party was well pleased with their outing and the pleasures of the visit. A neat little musical program was carried out in the canyon as was also one at Lester Park, where the party stopped on their return from the canyon.

AN EXCELLENT MUSICIAN.

Ogden people will be pleased to learn that Mrs. Blasdel has opened a studio of music in the Utah Loan & Trust Building, and is giving instruction in piano playing. Many will remember Mrs. Blasdel as Tillie Nielson, one of Utah's finest teachers and most talented musicians, and will be glad of the opportunity of receiving instruction from one of her ability.

SUN-FLOWER PARTY.

The Misses Belnap entertained a few of their friends Thursday evening by giving a sun-flower party. The house was tastily decorated with sun-flowers which made a beautiful appearance.
