

7,500 See Final Night Of Pioneer Days Rodeo; 30 Compete for Purse

By BOB AGEE
Thirty of America's top rodeo performers competed Saturday night for a share of the $22,180 purse in the final championship night of the Ogden Pioneer Days rodeo.

About 7,500 people were on hand in Ogden Stadium to watch the championship event, first time Ogden has put on such a final show.

In addition to top members of the Rodeo Cowboys Association, Cotton Rosser of the Flying U Producers had a number of top bucking broncos and brahma bulls of the country.

SATURDAY WINNERS
Many of these broncos and brahmas have appeared in the national rodeo finals at Los Angeles, Calif., and Fort Worth, Tex.

Saturday night's saddle bronc winner was Marty Woods of Bowness, Alberta, Can., aboard Heaven Bound. Woods is in second place for the national saddle bronc riding championship. Heaven Bound has been to the national rodeo finals in Los Angeles for the last three years.

Dean Oliver of Boise, Idaho won the Saturday night calf roping contest with a time of 11.2 seconds, giving him a three-calf ride of 36.1 seconds.

Oliver is in second place in the contests for all-around cowboy and calf roping.

The bareback riding Saturday night was won by Jackie Wright of Dayville, Ore., who rode Showboat.

Nathan Haley of Bufala, Okla. topped the steer wrestlers Saturday night with 6.8 seconds, giving him a total for the week of 17.9 seconds.

The amateur bareback riding honor was won by Owen Udy of Fielding, Utah aboard Hell to Set.

RACING TITLE
Lynette Hadley of Taylor won the girls' barrel racing title with 17.6 seconds. Second place went to Joyce Bloxham of Vernon, 17.7 seconds and third place to Connie Jacobs of Ogden with 18 seconds.

The Flying W junior posse of Taylor won the trophy for the week's competition in barrel racing with 3.33 seconds.

Second place in this event went to the Riverdale Rough Riders who finished with a time of 3.38 seconds.

HAFB Group Will Host Blind Children

HILL AIR FORCE BASE
The 945th Troop Carrier Group (Reserve) of Hill AFB has invited 20 children from the Utah State School for the Blind to tour the 945th facilities Thursday.

Prior to the tour the children and their military escorts will be briefed by Maj. Rex Hadley on the work done by the Hill unit, and a model C-119 "Flying Boxcar" will be provided for the children to "see" with their hands while Maj. Hadley describes the aircraft and its function.

DEMONSTRATIONS
The tour will begin with a demonstration of air-to-ground communications. The radio repair technician will tune in the control tower frequency while the tower gives arrival and departure instructions to operational aircraft. He will also attempt to contact an aircraft in flight to demonstrate the two-way feature of Air Force radio equipment.

The children will tour each shop in turn, learning about the function of engines, propellers, hydraulic systems, sheet metal repair, and parachute rigging. Also planned is a display of a new Air Force pressure suit with space helmet, oxygen supply, emergency survival equipment and signaling devices.

Goldwater Organized GOP Base

West 'Came of Age' Politically At '64 Convention

SOUTH OGDEN — A veteran newsman says the West "came of age politically" at the 1964 Republican National Convention.

The emergence of western influence in the GOP was one of the significant developments at the convention, reports Murray M. Moler, associate editor of the Ogden Standard-Examiner.

EAST HAD DOMINATED
Mr. Moler pointed out that traditionally the East has dominated the selection of both GOP and Democratic presidential candidates.

However, he told members of the Ogden Optimist Club, Sen. Barry Goldwater used western convention delegations and influences as the base from which he won the GOP nomination.

"Sen. Goldwater worked the western states hard before the convention," Mr. Moler reported. "He had been to every state organizing meetings in the West and had personally met each of Utah's 14 delegates to the convention."

Mr. Moler, who covered the convention for the Standard-Examiner, reported on highlights of the nominating session at an Optimist Club meeting in the Lion's Den here.

"OBVIOUS FROM START"
"It was obvious from the start what Sen. Goldwater had done," Mr. Moler said. "He had gone to the politicians to organize the convention to assure his nomination."

"The challenge for Sen. Goldwater now is to transfer this 'political appeal' into personal popular appeal," Mr. Moler reported.

He pointed out that charges of "rigging" heard at the 1964 GOP convention also were heard at the 1960 Democratic convention that nominated John F. Kennedy. He recalled that the late Sam Rayburn was asked to comment on a charge by former President Harry S. Truman that the then Sen. Kennedy had "rigged" the 1960 convention.

"Mr. Sam said 'we don't call it rigged, we call it organized,'" Mr. Moler reported.

AT INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Kiwanis Members Expedite Building

A dream of service to the community through a building to be constructed at the State Industrial School is rapidly becoming reality, Ogden Kiwanis Club president Dean Gardner said Saturday.

FOR GROUP WORK
Footings are in and material is being transported to the site of the building. The structure will be used by the school's youth in community activities such as Boy Scouts and various craft and group work.

Ogden Kiwanis members have donated equipment and material for the building which will be of brick veneer with about 1,000 feet of floor space.

There will be a kitchen and a large recreation room, fireplace and rest rooms.

Only Handful May Elect Legislators for Weber

Hansen Urges Big Turnout On Aug. 4 Registration Date

By CLIFF THOMPSON
Weber County Clerk Wendell Hansen predicted Saturday some of Weber County's seven representatives to the new Utah Legislature will be elected by significantly fewer than 20 per cent of the people they will represent.

This could be especially true in the heavily Democratic legislative districts where victory in the Democratic primary is tantamount to election.

Mr. Hansen expects more than half of the county's voting age adults—about 30,000 people—will not cast votes in the Aug. 11 primary due to lack of interest or failure to register.

He estimated almost 14,000 people will not be able to vote because they will fail to register on Aug. 4—the only registration day before the primary election.

"Another 16,000 will be registered but won't vote because of lack of interest or indifference to our governmental process," Mr. Hansen stated.

SMALL NUMBER
"This means that in some cases a relatively small number of people will be selecting the men who will be running our state and county governments for the next two to four years," Mr. Hansen said.

"Let's say that in some legislative districts only 45 per cent of the voting age adults cast ballots—and this frequently happens," Mr. Hansen stated.

"So we would have only 450 out of every 1,000 adults casting ballots," Mr. Hansen reported. In the heavy Democratic districts about 70 per cent of the votes or 315 of the 450 would be Democratic ballots.

"We can expect the Democratic candidate to win with 165 of those 315 Democratic votes," Mr. Hansen said, "and then go on to win in the general election."

Reports for Training
Hal L. Bowcutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvan L. Bowcutt, 3170 Lincoln, has reported for recruit training at San Diego, Calif.

WENDELL HANSEN
Stresses Registration

cause of redistricting that affected 40 voting districts, does not have to transfer his registration.

He encouraged voters to transfer their registration on Aug. 4 but said this can be accomplished "any day you can catch the registration agent at home until Aug. 8."

To transfer, a voter picks up a certificate of registration from his former district and takes it to the registration agent in his new district.

Five county contests will be determined in the Aug. 11 primary—three Democratic and two Republican.

Among the top races is the one for the Democratic nomination for the two-year County Commission seat with Bud Favero attempting to unseat incumbent Arthur P. Brown.

Another race being watched closely pits former Utah Education Association president Roy C. Metcalf against incumbent Merrill Jenkins for the Democratic nomination for the Utah Senate.

The other Democratic race is in the First Legislative District where Robert P. Stewart and Nettie Gould are the candidates.

The GOP primary races are in the Second Legislative District with Zola Cook and Stanley W. Poulson as the candidates and the Fifth District where Frank Geisler and Gail B. Gibbs are the candidates.

Youth Dies In Crash At Salmon

SALMON, Idaho—An 11-year-old boy identified as David Christensen of Ogden was killed after a head-on collision plunged the car his father was driving off a 30-foot embankment into the Salmon River.

Albiston reported that the accident occurred when another vehicle from Ogden, driven by John Stark, 55, was traveling north when it went into the barrow pit, then returned to the highway, went out of control and hit the car head-on driven by the boy's father, Milton Christensen, 32.

The car then plunged into the river and rolled downstream.

Mr. Christensen's wife, Betty, 31, and their daughter Lourie, 9, and son Curtis, 6, were taken to Steele Memorial Hospital in Salmon.

The mother and father were reported in fair condition, and the two children suffered minor injuries.

The wife of Mr. Stark, Mildred, 49, and a son Gary, 22, received minor injuries. A daughter, Kathryn, 14, was hospitalized.
