$2,500 In Holdup

Two armed robbers Monday morning forced their way into the business offices of the Moose Lodge, 607 E. 2nd South, struck the lodge secretary and escaped with

Of Lodge

Salt Lake City Police Officer Monty Luker said Cliff Haycock, 53, was working in the office with his assistant, Rose Steenblik, 45, when the men entered, one brandishing a .45-caliber automatic pistol.

The men said, "Give us the money or we'll have to kill you."

When Mr. Haycock was reluctant to relinquish the cash, one of the suspects slapped him in the head with a gun.

They then forced their way into Mrs. Steenblik's office and grabbed the cash.

Mr. Haycock said the two ran from the, lodge and he watched them cross the street. He then jumped into his pickup truck and followed them.

Fined $2,000

A former Commercial Security Bank vice president Monday was fined $2,000 and placed on three years' probation by Judge Aldon J. Anderson, U.S. District Court for Utah, for misappropriating bank funds.

Gordon Belnap, Ogden. was convicted, after a jury trial, of depositing a $5,000 cashier's check in his own account. The check was from Commercial Security made out to a bank in Pennsylvania.

The jury also found Belnap innocent on a charge of embezzling $13,200.

Nab Escapees

Lawmen nabbed two Utah State Prison inmates early Monday after a search that began Sunday about 8:30 p.m.

Warden Sam Smith said the two were spotted near 9500 S. Redwood Rd. (1700 West) by prison stall members.

Ernest Ray Contrillo, 23, and Paul A. Lindsey, 22, were missing from the medium security area during an 8:30 p.m. check.

Pulls Knife

Police Monday searched for a woman who pulled a knife on an employe of Payless Shoes, 973 W. North Temple, and took $138.80.

Lynette Mendenhall told police the woman came into the store at 12:40 p.m. and tried on several pairs of shoes. As the woman was paying for a pair, she produced the blade and scooped the till money into her purse.

A witness said the suspect fled north from the store.

Stays Trial

Trial for Frank Granato, indicted for bribery by the Salt Lake County Grand Jury, was continued without date Monday to allow 3rd District Court Judge Ernest F. Baldwin Jr. to weigh a motion to dismiss the case.

Granato, 61, 2190 Sunnybrook Way (4020 South), is charged in a single indictment with two counts of asking for a bribe and two counts of accepting a bribe. The alleged offenses occurred when he was chairman of the Salt Lake County Planning and Zoning Commission.

Trial Delay

The 3rd District Court trial of Douglas E. Dodge, accused of murder, Monday was delayed until Jan. 19.

Dodge was charged in the beating death of Cherie Lee McLellan, 34 Sept. 23 at the victim's home, 372 Coatsville Ave. (1790 South).

The defendant pleaded innocent to the charges when he was arraigned in 3rd District Court.
