

ARBOR DAY IS FITTINGLY OBSERVED

FINE PROGRAM IS RENDERED AT THE SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF
THIS MORNING.

High School Pupils Aid in Fixing Up
the Carnegie Library Grounds.

In pursuance of the plan outlined in the program of Arbor day exercises for the public schools given in yesterday's paper, the pupils of the high school this morning planted seven trees in the grounds in front of the public library building. The trees were planted by the student body of the high school, no one class being favored. A large number of students took part in the exercises.

Exercises were held during the forenoon at all of the school buildings.

AT SCHOOL FOR DEAF.

Arbor day coming on Friday, classes were dismissed. The pupils were ushered into the chapel which had been very prettily decorated by the committee. There a program was carried out in which both blind and deaf children took part. The exercises were most interesting and suitable to the occasion. The order of exercises was as follows:

ARBOR DAY PROGRAM.

A letter to the school children of Utah from state superintendent of public instruction.

Arbor Day—Theo. Trane, Stanley, Otto, Bennie, Ada, Elsie, Fred.

The Pine Tree's Gifts—Paul, Cora, Maud, Robert, Alice, Charlie, Ruth, Leonard, Sarah.

Pussy Willow—Naomi Wright.

Address, Arbor Day—Supt. Driggs.

Song—School for the Blind Choir.

Arbor Day—Nettie, Louie, Charles, Harvey, Arilla.

Why We Should Plant Trees—Otto E., Hannah, Mary, Alex.

Because—Clifford, Kenneth, Herold.

Woodman Spare That Tree—Lizzie Egginton.

America—School for the Blind Choir.

After the program the school marched out of the chapel to the grounds where each of the classes planted and named a tree.

ARBOR DAY AT WEBER STAKE ACADEMY.

The daily program of studies was disposed of by 11:30 a. m. at which time the entire school met in the assembly hall to commence Arbor Day celebration. The following program was rendered in a pleasing manner, all the parts bringing forth hearty and prolonged applause. Mr. Harris' speech and Clyde Lindsay's sentiment, "The Acorn," took the school by storm.

PROGRAM.

1.—Singing, "The Linden Tree," choir.

2.—The Governor's proclamation, Prof. T. E. McKay.

3.—Speech, "Arbor Day," Nathan J. Harris.

4.—Reading, "The Apple Tree in Love," Orlinda Woolley.

5.—Sentiment, "Our Acorn," Clyde Lindsay.

6.—Sentiment, "Give Us Room Our Tree to Plant," Walter Emmett.

7.—Singing, "America," School.

8.—Benediction.

After the exercises the classes marched to the front of the building, where they planted vines and shrubbery and otherwise beautified the grounds. After giving three hearty cheers and a "Tiger" for the success of the academy the students were dismissed for the day. One of the main features of the occasion was the marching into the hall of the senior class. On their new banner was emblazoned in golden letters their chosen motto, "Multum In Parvo."
