

IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL SERVICE

REMAINS OF ELZA B. BROWN LAID
TO REST YESTERDAY.

Services Were Held in the Fourth
Ward Meeting House—Many Beautiful Floral Offerings.

Impressive were the services over all that was mortal of Elza B. Brown, who died a few days ago at the Ogden General hospital as a result of an operation for appendicitis.

The services were held in the Fourth ward meeting house, Bishop James Ward, of North Ogden, presiding. The ward choir furnished the musical portion of the ceremony. Orson Griffin and Joseph Adams sang a duet entitled "I Need Thee Every Hour." Orson Griffin sang "Sleep On" and Joseph Adams sang "Rest to The Weary One."

The speakers were Nathan J. Harris, Parley Taylor, Bishop Levi Taylor, Prof. D. O. McKay, of the Weber Stake Academy, N. C. Flygare and James Ward. All spoke of the high regard which they had for the deceased and of his services in the Sunday school and of his devotion to the principles which stand for honesty and right living.

A number of beautiful floral offerings were received. One worthy of mention was the piece sent by the Sunday school, a crescent on an easle and a star. The meeting house was crowded with relatives and friends of the deceased and the family. Interment was in the City cemetery.

"I suffered habitually from constipation. Doan's Regulets relieved and strengthened the bowels, so that they have been regular ever since."—A. E. Davis, grocer, Sulphur Springs, Tex.—