

CHIEF WILFONG CHOSEN RELIEF FUND CHAIRMAN

Ogden and Weber's Part In Campaign To Be Mapped Tomorrow.

A. E. Wilfong, chief of police, will direct efforts in Ogden and Weber county toward assisting Utah flood sufferers.

Chief Wilfong said this morning that he will call a number of representative citizens into conference tomorrow to make definite plans for the fund-raising campaign.

Miss Edith Tallman, executive secretary of the Weber chapter, will assist Chief Wilfong in the campaign.

Chief Wilfong said this morning that he will call a number of representative citizens into conference tomorrow to make definite plans for the fund-raising campaign.

Business institutions, civic organizations and amusement establishments joined hands with relief workers in the common effort to raise the fund.

Ray Hall appeared in municipal court this morning on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Complaint in the case alleges that on August 15, 1930, Hall assaulted C. W. Kim with a galvanized piece of iron, inflicting serious wounds and bruises on Kim's head and body.

Police officers are looking for Emanuel Gomez, who is said to have entered into an altercation with Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. were taken to the hospital, where the interne took a few stitches in cuts about the arms and heads of the two victims.

Stores are just full of little items that can be picked up cheap now and will make wonderful presents in the winter.

And golf clubs! They will be going begging on the market soon and can be purchased for a song.

Fancy sport shoes are being knocked down to the highest bidder at astonishing figures and what boy or girl wouldn't be glad to receive a nice gift like that on Christmas morning.

Used cars can be picked up at bargain prices now and every family would like a used car.

At this time of the year when the various stores are holding their regular fall sales is the proper time to lay in presents.

Benefit performances, voluntary contributions and solicitation poured money into the relief fund coffers Tuesday and today.

Red Cross workers predicted the $15,000 mark would be passed by nightfall.

It is evident, said Miss Edgarda Wedgwood, executive secretary of the Red Cross for Salt Lake county, that the $50,000 quota which will be used to help 60 destitute families.

Business institutions, civic organizations and amusement establishments joined hands with relief workers in the common effort to raise the fund.

Another $238.14. There have been three individual subscriptions of over $1,000.

Salt Lake county's quota is $20,000 and the flood fund workers expect it to be raised by the end of the week.

HOWDJA LIKE TO PILOT THIS?

While the automotive industry is experimenting with midget cars, aviation has gone to the other extreme and is building big planes.

This eight-ton tri-motor Boeing transport, recently put in operation on the San Francisco-Chicago line, features an open cockpit. It is said the pilot, more than 15 feet above ground, has greater visibility in landing and taking off.

and Jerries, we must start to think about the proposition.

And if most of the folks are like us they get so few presents that even a garden rake would be welcomed.

The weather is beginning to get warm again. We thought we had it where it would stay cool the rest of the summer, but the climbing of the thermometer to 92 Tuesday begins to look like it might be out of hand.

A year ago today highest was 89 and lowest 56. The day was clear, although a bit of distant thunder was heard.

On August 20, 1833, Benjamin Harrison, soldier, orator, lawyer, author and twenty-third president of the United States, was born at North Bend, Ohio.

After graduating from Miami university in 1852, Harrison studied law at Cincinnati. He practiced in Indianapolis, Ind. Entering the Union army in 1862, he served with conspicuous gallantry in the Atlanta campaign.

In 1881 he entered the United States senate and seven years later was nominated for the presidency by the Republican convention and subsequently elected.

Harrison was the chief representative of the United States at The Hague conference in 1899. He lectured for a time at Leland Stanford junior university in California.

He died after a brief illness in Indianapolis in 1901.

NAVAL OFFICER GUEST IN OGDEN

O. H. S. Graduate Now Has Important Position In Service.

Commander William C. Barker, Jr., U. S. navy, recruiting inspector in western division, arrived here in his official capacity yesterday to inspect the local recruiting sub-station, under charge of S. W. McGovern, gunner's mate first class.

Commander Barker was educated in Salt Lake and Ogden. He was graduated from the Lincoln school in Salt Lake in 1896 and from the Ogden High school in 1900.

During the world war Commander Barker served as executive officer of the U. S. transport Henderson, making 13 round trips to France, while she carried 30,000 troops "over there."

After the war Commander Barker was selected as aide to the chief of the bureau of navigation in the navy department at Washington, serving as such until 1922 when he returned to sea as navigating officer of the U. S. S. Tennessee, one of the navy's most modern battleships.

Commander Barker held the important post of personnel officer for the fleet during the past ten years. He was selected for the post of chief of the battle fleet and of the commander in chief United States fleet.

With his intimate knowledge of personnel work derived from his varied and important duties in this field during the past ten years, Commander Barker is considered one of the best informed officers on this subject in the navy.

After the formal inspection of the recruiting activities, Commander Barker spent the rest of the day calling on public officials of the city and making a talk over radio station K.L.O., which was scheduled for 7:45 p. m., but was delayed until 9 p. m., due to transmitter trouble.

Commander Barker stated that for the next few months, as far as he can ascertain, the recruiting service will work on a reduced quota which will enable the navy to choose only the very highest type of men for the service.

BOYS COMMENDED BY POLICE CHIEF

Boy Scouts of the Ogden Gateway council who assisted police officers during the three days of the Union Pacific system athletic meet were commended today by Police Chief A. E. Wilfong.

Chief Wilfong said the boys, who were appointed special officers, did excellent work and made it possible for police to handle traffic in an efficient manner.

HARRIS FAMILY REUNION CALLED

Pioneers' Descendants To Gather Saturday At Lagoon

On Saturday, August 23, descendants of Emer Harris and Martin Harris will hold their annual outing and reunion at Lagoon. Most of the original members of the family were pioneers.

Martin Harris was an early friend of the Prophet Joseph Smith, and assisted in translating the book of Mormon, later becoming one of the three witnesses to that book.

He later sold his farm, and with the proceeds thereof paid for the publication of the first edition of the Book of Mormon. Later becoming dissatisfied, he remained at Kirtland, until 1870, when he was brought to Utah by Edward Stevenson, under the direction of President Young.

He died at Clarkston, in Cache county, in 1875. A monument was erected to his memory, and was dedicated by President Grant on July 10, 1925, on the fiftieth anniversary of his death. His family came to Utah with the church and settled principally in the southern part of Idaho, where most of his descendants now reside.

Emer Harris, a brother of Martin, settled in Weber county. His immediate descendants were all pioneers. Joseph M. Harris settled at Ogden, Martin H. Harris at Harrisville, Alma Harris in Cache Valley.
