

HOOPER READY TO ENTERTAIN DAY'S THROUGH

Baby Show First Attraction; Diversions Will Fill Hours

President Levi Beus of the Hooper farm bureau, in charge of all committees, reports all is in readiness for the Tomato day celebration to be held Monday.

THREE AWARDS The baby show promises to be an entertaining feature, opening at eleven o'clock. There will be three prizes awarded, first and second prizes for the best all-around babies and a third prize for the most attractively decorated basket or carriage.

FOR TEAM TITLE Following the lunch hour, the Hooper girls softball team, claimants of the state championship, will play the L. D. S. Twenty-eighth ward team from Salt Lake City, champions of the Salt Lake City league.

A grand march will be made over the grounds. The queen of the tomato festival, Miss Florence Hancock, and her attendants, the Misses Arlene Mitchell and Arlene Simpson, will lead the procession.

RODEO CONTESTS The outstanding feature of the day will be the rodeo, taking place in mid-afternoon. McBride's string of famous buckers will compete against the dexterous skill of selected riders. A roundup has been made of wild steers which will challenge the courage of daring cowboys.

McBride's company boasts the possession of a famous bucker known as Black Diamond, which has never been ridden successfully. Many added attractions such as horse races and chariot races will enliven the program.

Teams and levelers have been at work during the week preparing the race track and rodeo field.

During the day a flower show will be in progress in the pavilion. A grand ball in the evening will end the festival.

OREM TO HOLD HARVEST FETE

Utah County People Will Gather At School For Exhibits

PROVO, Aug. 31.—Utah county residents will gather at the Lincoln High school and Sharon stake buildings and adjacent grounds in Orem Labor day in celebration of the second annual harvest carnival and fair of Sharon stake and Orem, at which crop exhibits will be on display and an extensive program of sports, games, bazaars, tournaments and other attractions will be offered.

Displays of fruits and vegetables, latest household appliances, machinery, automobiles, trucks and other features will be shown at the high school building and in a big tent. Displays of the Four-H club and Future Farmers of America will also be presented.

A fine collection of art and needlework and a flower show will be held at the Seminary building. Many other exhibits will be offered.

A feature of the celebration will be the performance of "Silver Lady," beautiful white horse of Carl Peterson, Texas ranger, which was one of the attractions of the Ogden Pioneer days rodeo shows.

The complete program for the day is announced by the committee in charge: Automobile show, athletic carnival, band concerts, baseball games, bazaar, barbecue, dance for children, drum and bugle corps exhibition, "exhibition" of exhibits of children, flower show, horseshoe tournament, pageant, vaudeville, softball and tennis tournament.

The festivities will close with a dance to be held at the Geneva resort pavilion, at which $150 in cash prizes will be awarded to holders of lucky tickets.

REVIEW DRAWN BY COMMUNITY CHEST OFFICE

Directors Will Be Chosen At Annual Meeting Next Week

A total of $24,901.12 has been received by the community chest of Ogden out of $35,000 pledged for 1935 when the campaign was started last March. It was shown in a report made public Saturday by directors of the chest.

The report, prepared by Executive Secretary Carlisle C. Eubank, covers the first five and one-half months of the chest year. Of the total received, $24,461.94, has been distributed among the seven participating agencies. The report further discloses the chest itself as well as the agencies were living within their budgets and, from all appearances, the chest will again operate on an even basis during 1935.

TO MAIL NOTICES President George Eccles and the directors called attention of subscribers to the fund that the last statement for payment of subscriptions will be placed in the mail Monday. They asked prompt payment of the balance due in order that the chest might continue to carry on in the manner in which it has through the participating agencies operating under it.

It was explained that all requests for assistance, either through the chest office or through the participating agencies have been cared for and a great many worthy cases were promptly and adequately handled.

Budget and financial reports are being received monthly from each agency and are being analyzed by the chest organization with regard to the work being done and the manner in which funds are expended.

DENTAL CLINIC At a recent meeting the directors discussed the possibility of allocating funds for establishment of a dental clinic through one of the participating agencies to take care of a need disclosed by a survey made among school children of Ogden. The matter was referred to the council of social agencies and it is thought some provision will be made by the chest to assist in meeting the dental needs of school children.

The annual meeting of the community chest subscribers was set for September 11. The place will be announced later. The purpose of the gathering will be to elect seven directors at large from among the subscribers to serve during the coming year and to conduct other business.

ACCOUNTS CHECKED The annual audit of chest operations for the year February 10, 1934, to February 28, 1935, as prepared by Scholefield, Wells and Baxter, was presented to the board of directors with the following comment from the accountants:

"We found that all of the officers of the corporation are covered by fidelity bonds as provided by the articles of incorporation. The books and records were found to be accurately and systematically kept and no irregularities were disclosed." The report said the chest during the year the audit covered operated within the budgets and ended the year with a small surplus.

Duties Force Board To Use New Schedule

Because of the increasing necessity of inspecting roads and planning construction and repair, the county commissioners announce that, beginning Tuesday, there will be a new schedule of office hours.

The regular Monday schedule, which will not become effective for a week because tomorrow is Labor day, will be from ten a. m. to noon and from two to four p. m.

On Tuesday, Friday and Saturday of each week they will be in their office from ten a. m. to noon.

REUNION DRAWS MANY MEMBERS

Faithfulness of Witness To Book of Mormon Related

Several hundred descendants of Martin Harris, Emer Harris and Naomi Kellogg, from Utah, California, Idaho, Wyoming and other states, gathered Saturday in Lorin Park park in their tenth annual reunion.

The committee in charge of arrangements, Louise Harris Pingree, Mabel Harris Belnap, Emma Harris Hansen and Kate Greenwell Harris, presented a pageant, "Leaves From Our Family Tree," in the park bandstand depicting the history of the family in pantomime, as Emma H. Hansen of North Ogden explained each episode. Prior to this performance, an address of welcome was made by N. J. Harris of Ogden.

A brief resume of the faithfulness of Martin Harris, a witness to the Book of Mormon, and a brother of Emer Harris, was presented in the welcoming speech. The speaker had in his possession one of the first copies of the Book of Mormon, which he described as priceless.

Group singing was conducted as the opening number. Invocation was said by Hyrum S. Harris.

Tap dancing, musical numbers and other features of entertainment followed during the afternoon assembly.

The guests arrived at ten a. m. and a basket luncheon was served at one o'clock. Following the afternoon program, games and other events rounded out the observance.

Bandit Takes Cash From Motor Station

Arch Benson, attendant at a service station at Washington avenue and Twenty-first street, was accosted early Saturday by a bandit carrying a pistol outside the station and forced to go into the lavatory and then into the lavatory. Benson was robbed of $2, taken from his pockets, and $10 was taken from the cash register.

Benson said the bandit forced him to walk ahead of him and was not permitted to face the man until he fled from the premises. He described the man as being about 27 years old, six feet tall, weighing about 150, wearing a tan colored coat and light cord trousers. He said the man walked with a slight limp.

Six and a quarter ounces was the weight of an egg laid by a hen on the farm of J. R. Morris near Sydney, Australia.

TALK AROUSED BY REQUEST FOR BUILDING FUND

How City Would Fare Under County Undertaking Is Question

Whether Weber county will have a new county building and whether the county eventually will let Ogden city, which also wants a new building, share it were moot questions presented by the sudden decision of the county commissioners to ask PWA for $350,000 to build the structure.

First of all, no plans have been drawn nor has a site been selected. The request was hastily submitted to R. A. Hart, PWA director for Utah, to get it under consideration before the deadline Tuesday.

TO REPAY LOAN If the 45 per cent grant and 55 per cent loan are forthcoming, then an election will have to be called to determine whether the county taxpayers want to sell bonds to guarantee repayment of the loan to the government.

The county commissioners take the stand that Ogden city, because of its heavy bonded debt, which exceeds $1,000,000, is in no position to participate in construction of a joint city and county building and should not be given quarters in any new county building without paying rent. The county is free of bonded debt.

The city has proposed that the county allow it some credit on the present site of the city hall, erect the building there and as a result cut the city's share of the loan liability to a point where the city would be able to finance it without a bond issue.

SOME OBJECTIONS The county commissioners do not seem inclined to do this, first, because $100,000 suggested as an allowance to the city for the site seems too high, secondly, because the title to the east portion of City Hall park contains a flaw which would have to be corrected by the national congress before title to the property could be made clear.

Some talk also has been heard of purchasing the American Legion chateau, adjoining the present county court house between Washington and Adams avenues on Twenty-fourth streets.

It must be explained the county cannot bond itself to construct a building without the consent of the Ogden city voters, who pay 73 per cent of the taxes which go to support the county. Outside of the city proper, about half of the county taxes are paid by the railroad and other utilities, leaving the remainder to be paid by farmers and suburban residents.

CHANGE MADE IN STUDIOS OF RADIO STATION

Temporary Location Is Used; Operating Power May Be Increased

Studios of radio station KLO were removed Saturday from the Hotel Ben Lomond to the fifth floor of the Orpheum apartments, where temporary broadcasting facilities have been established.

In making the move, the management of KLO announced new and modern studios will be constructed this fall at a location separate from the Hotel Ben Lomond and at a site deemed more suitable for the conduct of broadcasting operations.

Construction work on the new KLO studios will not be commenced for probably 60 days, or until after plans for an increase in KLO's operating power have matured. Until that time, all local broadcasting will be from the temporary quarters in the Orpheum apartments, or if large studio accommodations are required for special occasions, from one of the several remote control studios maintained by KLO in this city.

Six Couples Come To License Counter

Marriage licenses were issued to six couples in the county clerk's office during Saturday. Those who obtained them were:

Alma L. Montgomery and Tola B. Rainey, of Buhl, Idaho; Julius J. Ferrin and Maurine Macbeth, of Ogden; Roy A. Hendricks and Cecilia Wright, of Ogden; Glen E. Wiggins and Marjorie B. Pett, of Ogden; Simon M. Welsh and Flossie F. Bingham, of Ogden; Cecll Ermitte Tucker and Daisy Carver, of Ogden.
